INTRODUCTION TO GUIDE

A Guide For Our Coast Guard Family

This Guide was created to inform our Coast Guard Family of the many Coast Guard operated recreation areas and temporary guest housing facilities available for their use. There are 26 separate recreation areas located in 13 states and Puerto Rico. For easy reference, the Guide is organized alphabetically by state. It is intended to make readily available basic information about these facilities that are located from coast to coast and border to border.

Plan Ahead; Inquire Ahead

This Guide was designed to provide necessary information for you and your family to choose a facility without having to call or write first. However, it probably does not contain all the information you may want concerning a particular facility and it is therefore recommended that you ask for additional information when you make reservations. For instance, if you plan to use furnished lodging facilities, you need to know whether you should bring your own cooking and eating utensils, towels, and bed linens. You may also need to know the size of trailer pads or camper spaces and whether they are the drive-through or back-in type. This could be very important depending upon the size and type of your recreational vehicle or trailer. You may even wish to ask about available recreation equipment and whether it is likely to be on hand when you get there.

Again, we cannot overemphasize that you plan well in advance and ask additional questions when you make reservations. This will help ensure the accommodations you desire are available, and prevent any surprises when you get there. Our job is to provide you with the best service possible, by helping answer your questions before you arrive and meeting your needs during your visit.

COAST GUARD RECREATIONAL AREAS

Coast Guard Recreational Areas

In response to the increased interest in outdoor recreation activities, many Coast Guard units have developed outdoor recreation areas as part of their Morale, Well-being, and Recreation (MWR) Program. Since each unit maintains and manages its own recreation areas, each has its own rules and regulations regarding usage. Here are some often asked general questions regarding recreation areas and facilities:

Who Can Use These Recreation Areas?

Active duty Coast Guard and their dependents have first priority, but a full listing of eligible patrons authorized to use these facilities is contained in the Coast Guard Morale, Well-Being and Recreation Manual, COMDINST M1710.13 (series).

Check with the specific recreation area office to determine your priority to use the facility.

What Do The Recreation Areas Offer?

A listing of each area's recreation facilities, available activities, and equipment is included in this Guide. More information is available from the reservations/information office for each area.

How Long May I Use The Facility?

Each recreation area varies - lengths of stay range from 1 week, or less, to indefinitely. At some locations, it varies depending upon the season. The most significant factor is actual availability. Extensions will usually be permitted if there are no other reservations. Be sure to check the reservation section in the Guide for the recreation area of interest to you.

How Much Does It Cost To Use A Facility?

Charges are reasonable. They are not listed in this Guide because they are subject to change. Information about fees should be requested from the specific recreation area office.

Is A Deposit Or Advance Payment Required?

Yes! Almost every recreation area in this Guide requires either a deposit, or advance payment in full, to confirm your reservation. Check the reservations section for specific requirements.

Are Reservations Necessary?

Yes! Every recreation area in this Guide requires reservations. Some facilities allow reservations as early as 3 months prior to your stay - others require as little as 1 week's notice. Be sure to check the reservations section for the particular recreation area. Also, when you call remember the time zone of your destination may be different than your local time. All times listed in the Guide are local times for each area.

Are Pets Allowed?

Not usually. Be sure to check the general information section for the particular recreation area you are planning to visit. If no specific information is provided, please call the recreation facility for details.
